YOUNG MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—

Dr. H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of hose cases caused by a secret habit which runs both hody and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for sither business or society. The sad effect of these early nabits, or the excess of riper years, are to weaken and lebilitate the constitution, destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the vital energies of manhood; the pleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage frustrated, and existence itself rendered a term of unceasing misery and regret. Such persons, especially those contemplating marriage, should lose no time in making muediate application, as Dr. H., by his new treatment, e-enabled to insure a speedy and permanent cure.

It is understood throughout camp this morning that the four or five independent Kentucky companies, now at Richmond, have been ordered to repair to this paint and unite with this regiment. Roger W. Hanson will probably take command of this regiment, that being the wish and desire of every member.

CHARGE OF FORGERY.-Louis Tachau was arraigned before the Police Court vesterday on a charge of forgery, under the following circumstances: It appears that there has been an understanding between the agents of Collector Cotton at the Nashville Depot and Capt. Silas Miller, of the Galt House, whereby Captain Miller gave passes to travelers going South which were recognized by the Collector's agents, who permitted the baggage of the holder to pass without examination. Possessing a knowledge of this fact, it was charged against Mr. Tachau that he had forged Mr. Miller's passes, by which means con raband goods had been shipped on the Louisville and Nashville road. Mr. Tachau waived an examination, and escaped prosecution by giving bail in a nominal sum for his good behavior.

Our brave troops, particuarly the sick and wounded, suffered greatly. e of the troops were without provisions fro lay breakfast until Tuesday after the battl Since then it has occurred more than once that many have been without food for twenty-four nours. Great indignation is felt throughout the urmy and in Richmond on account of this out-ageous and unendurable inefficiency. The effi-

es. I learn it has been, and is, a matter of oitter complaint and earnest remonstrance by the commanding Generals. And not only is there a want of sufficient quantity, but the provisions are not good, are, in fact, positively unwholesome. It is not only so at the camps in Fairfax county, where the army is large, but also in other camps. A great deal of sickness is the natural consequence. One regiment near Acquai Creek, has lost sixty men, and another thirty. The weather has been intensely hot, and the great mortality is attributed by the troops to bad provisions, un-suitable at any time, especially during such a season.

The country people, camp traders, and sutlers, too, in the neighborhood of Fredericksburg and Acquia Creek, charge the poor fellows most extortionate prices for everything they buy. I have heard it is the same in other places, but that it is there, I am assured by the best authority.

And not only is the department of subsistence ill-managed, but the equally indispensible department to the mobility and efficiency, transportation, is also lamentably behind. It was the condition of these two branches of the army which prevented Gen. Beauregard from advancing to after the grand carousel in Owen county on the 5th of September next. But that it will be made, I bave not the least doubt.

The plan is, to bring a large force of the State Guard here on some given night, which will be known to the K. G. C.'s, and a large body of the september of the state is the state is the september of the state is the state is the september of the state is the september o

I followed Dr. Hunter's advice strictly, and in the course of a month I was rewarded by finding the irritation of my lungs allayed, and a strength and tone imparted to them which they had not before. I still continued for several months, however, to inhale his precipitions, and found con-tinued improvement and strength as the result. The obstructions in my lungs being thus removed, the blood became vitaized, my appetite increased, and my general health became perfect.

Although it is now six years since I had the happiness of making Dr. Hunter's acquaintance, I feel that my present excellent health is mainly due to his scientific treatment, and with this conviction I most cheerfully volunteer a statement of the facts as they may prove useful to others. of the facts, as they may prove useful to others.

a white heat, and when the whole mass cools it is put into a furnace, brought to a welding heat, and at the same time a piece of iron of sufficient size to form the breech is heated and forced into the end of the mass of iron. The pile is then put into a machine which forces the end together sufficiently to completely weld the edges of the bars of iron which had been previously wrapped around the foundation of the gun. After this process the iron is passed through immense rollers until the whole is thoroughly welded, and of the desired size, now the trunions are welded, or technically speaking, "jumped" on. As soon as the guns cool they are put into a lathe, turned to a proper shape, and the hollow or bore of the guns bored to the desired size. The advantage of wrapping the bars around the pile instead of hammering, it is said, gives it the full benefit of the tensile strain of the iron, while the other process only gives the strain that can be obtained from the cross section of the iron. On the trial of these guns it was found that four-pounders would throw a ten-round shell or shot of the acorn patch. the cross section of the fron. On the trial of these guns it was found that four-pounders would throw a ten-pound shell or shot of the acorn pattern, two and one-half miles with accuracy, and the six-pounders, fifteen-pound shot and three and one-half miles. They are also used with great efficiency at point blank ranges of from twelve hundred to fifteen hundred yards.

malady should form an exception to all othe diseases. If it be curable, then by what mean can cure be accomplished? I take it this is wha the public desire to know, and what the physician should endeavor to explain. If I entertained the opinion, general in my profession, and almost universal among the people, that consumption is beyond the skill of man to uproot, the task of explaining its treatment would indeed be easily accomplished. It would consist in a mere enumeration of the different remedies which have ration of the different remedies which Galt House, Louisville, Kv. een found most effectual in palliating the dis essing symptoms which characterize it—cough ann, fever, perspiration, &c.—for it may trul e said of most physicians that they have strive BUSINESS NOTICES. o devise the best means to mark the disease and nake the patient comfortable, but the very worst o effect his recovery. But believing as I do that onsumption is curable, it becomes necessary to point out with accuracy what I mean by the rm consumption.

The term "consumption" was originally applied many diseases situated in different or and having no symptoms in common except the wasting or emaciation of the body. They were called consumptions because the body consumed away. This use of the term led to great confusion among writers, and it was soon found necessary to designate the kind of consumption meant, by prefixing the name of the affected excess.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

sary to designate the kind of consumption meant, by prefixing the name of the affected organ.

Laennec, the great discoverer of the stethescope, in the course of his extensive researches into the pathology of the lungs, found that granular bodies always exist in the lungs in genuine consumption. These bodies are called tubercles; and, since the time of Laennec, the term consumption has been restricted and understood to apply to a disease of the lung characterized by their presence. When, therefore, I speak of consumption, I mean not only a disease of the lungs, but tubercular disease. I am particular that this should be understood, for the changes which these tubercles undergo produce the destruction these tubercles undergo produce the destruction of the lungs, and all that melancholy train of symptoms which mark the progress of consumption; while their seat—the sir-tubes and cells of the lungs—indicates the treatment necessary for their removal.

The tubercles regulate the stage of the dise by the changes which they undergo. We say consumption is in the first stage when the tuercles are small specks or points of a gravish olor—half transparent. In this condition they esemble millet seed, and hence are called miliar tubercles. This tubercular matter is secreted from the blood. It is not only poured out into the air cells, and on the free surface of the mu-cous lining of the air tubes, but deposited in the icate structures which go to make up the lu Whatever interferes with decarbonization of the blood will produce tubercles. They are always the produce of a defective performance of the function of the lungs. Catarrip produces them by inducing and feeding irritation in the larynx and the windpipe. The momen the air is shut off from a cluster of air-cells those cells become the centre of imperfect decar conization, and sooner or later will become tree-verculous. Here, then, you see a chain of irr action beginning in a simple catarrh, and endurn n consumption. It is not the irritation that produces the tubercles—for irritation in any other organ than the lungs would not be followed by their development—but it is the obstruction which the viscid mucous cases in the air tubes. The hawking up of this sticky kind of mucous may be the only symptom of consumption in the first stage. From this you will understand what fatal mistra these wakes were readers.

In the second stage of consumption the tuber es become much increased in size. In the first ley were of the size of millet seed; they have they were of the size of millet seed; they have now become of sizes varying from a small pea to a filbert. They have also undergone a change in color—from pearl grey to yellow. When taken from the lungs of persons who have died, and pressed between the tingers, they break down just like lumps of old cheese. These cheesy tubercles, from their size, increase the obstruction to the lungs, causing shortness of breath, and generally a considerable addition to the cough and expectation.

The last stage of consumption is caused by these cheesy tubercles becoming softened down into pus, and by their producing ulceration of the substance of the lungs. When the process of ulceration commences we have all the worst symptoms inaugurated—hectic fever, night sweats, severe cough, expectorations of yellow matter, spitting of blood, loss of flesh, and strength, and strength, and strength, and strength, and strength, and strength, and strength and strength. nt the power of life, and the patient sinks. OUTRAGES IN MISSOURI—We daily hear of outrages committed by the secessionists upon peaceable, unoffending citizens. Many of the victims of this outlawry were formerly residents of Southern Illinois, and well known as persons of the highest respectability, and their characters are such that the truth of their statements ters are such that the truth of their statements cannot be questioned. On Thursday last, some old residents of Williamson were driven from their homes in Missouri, their property seized, and all their means "confiscated." They crossed the river, and, proceeding to their former places of residence, applied to their old friends for aid. Rumors of Fighting at Washington Washington, August 28
The city was rife last night and this morn

with the report of a fight on the other side of the Potomac. Even in usually well informed quar-ters there is conflicting information on the sub-ject. It is certain, however, that General McClellan returned from thence at half-past eleven o'clock last night and nothing of an important or serious character was elicited. It is probable, however, that a disunion force of three companies of cavalry and about the same number of infantry with two field pieces have been hovering in the vicinity of Ball's Cross Roads, maneuvering with a view to draw detachments of our troops

GEN. LYON'S REMAINS .- The remains of Gen. Lyon were received at St. Louis on Monday evening. The remains were attended from Springfield by a party of Lyon's kinsmen and friends who went thither for the purpose. The body was to be embalmed, and then placed en route for deceased's former home in Connecticut.

Mysterious Disappearance. - Mr. Joseph recently disappeared from his friends in a somewhat mysterious manner. Circumstances have come to light which lead to the conclusion that he has been murdered.

Land Warrants in New York.—The Question of their Assymment.— The business in land warrants has recently been much contracted, and warrant holders very much disturbed by a decision of the Secretary of the Interior, that warrants assigned in blank were void. As ninetynine warrants in each hundred during the last ten years have been so assigned, the Department having always recognized such assignment, this decision, which converted thousands of warrants into worthless paper, caused much alarm. We are glad to see by the following letter, received by Messrs. Taylor Brothers, that the Secretary has reviewed his decision, and that land warrants are again of some value:

Banking House of Sweeney, Ritten-)

BANKING HOUSE OF SWEENEY, RITTEN-) Washington, Aug. 20, 1861.

Messrs. Taylor Brothers, Bankers, New Yor. Gentlemen: Our Mr. Faut had a very satisfactory interview with the Secretary of the Interior this morning, in relation to the question of blank assignments, to which you have called our attention. He authorized him to say that, inasmuch as Congress had not, in his opinion, made land warrants negotiable, his decision was only intended to protect bona fide owners of blank assigned warrants which may have been stolen, or signed warrants which may have been stolen, or olse improperly obtained; that he did not mean to interfere with the buying and selling of blank assigned warrants; and that he saw no reahe Government as to the validity thereof. If, how-ever, a contest was made in cases of warrants improperly obtained, such assignment would be stop to inquire when the name of the assignee was put in, and it could never be questioned except when raised by an adverse claimant. If it wystt, cor. 7th and Jefferson street. hould be shown by the warrantee after location, decision did not change the former ruling of the Department, except in cases where a contest arose. Hence, while the Department cannot officially announce that it will approve of blank assignments, no obstacle will be thrown in the way can perceive no reason why the value of warrants

THE SIEGE OF SEBASTOPOL.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune furnishes the following interesting information relative to the siege of Sebastopol:

For a whole year the heaviest ordnance which the mightiest powers of Europe could command, directed by the most perfect science mankind ever saw, shock with its thunderings the Heracleidan Saw, snook with its thunderings the Heracleidan Chersonese. France, the most martial of modern nations, contributed to the gigantic strife 1,676 guns, nearly all of which were of the largest calibre. They exploded 9,000,000 pounds of powder in front of the beleaguered city, throwing into it and its covering works 1,250,000 rounds of shot and shell. England, long her rival enemy, but now her ally, threw at the same time of like material 253,000 rounds. The vices are the martial descriptions. the town, on the left of the English attack, was known as 'The Valley of Death;' in the bottom of it, in some places, our horses literally walked on a pavement of cannon balls lying close together."

had in his belt, and shot him dead. She ran through all the rooms, firing upon every brigand she found engaged in plundering the house. She shot down four of them. Alarmed at this unexpected attack, and not knowing what to make of it, the ruffians in the other rooms ran out. She, still pursuing them, succeeded, before they could get a knowledge of the enemy they had to encounter, in closing the front door against them. The brigands attempted to set fire to the house, From the balcony she put out an old musket belonging to her uncle, and fired upon them again, and then displaying from the window a tri-colored fiag, cried "Viva Garibaldi" with all her strongth. The miscreants fired an ineffectual shot or two and fairly ran for it. A few moments after a Captain of bersaglieri, who just came up, found the exhausted girl in a faint upon the dead body of her uncle. had in his belt, and shot him dead.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—As turpentine is contraband now, and has advanced from 30 cents to $1 25 per gallon, a substitute is wanted for mixing paint, it is now stated by painters who have tried it, that the naptha, or benzole, as it is generally called, taken from the petroleum oil, is equally as good, and on some seconts better.

erally called, taken from the petroleum oil, is equally as good, and on some accounts better, than the turpentine, and we observe by the Pennsylvania and Ohio papers, is in general use by all painters.—Rochester Advertiser.

Naptha has for some months past been used by many of our painters as a substitute for turpentine. Missers. Hervey & Bousfield, of the Boston Pail Company, use it for all their ware, and its use is every day becoming more extended. The price of naptha at our coal oil refineries, where it is manufactured, is we understand 35 cents per gallon. Hence all painters can see the benefit to be derived from using it.—Cleveland Herald.
